OFFICIAL CENSOR OF CHARITIES ADVISED

Committee Urges Commissioners Regulate Soliciting of Funds in District.

Legislation for the regulation of the oliciting of funds for private philanthroples may be sought by the Commissioners, on the advice of the Chariies Indorsement Committee, Since its ntment by the Commissioners, December 80, 1911, the committee has endeavored to free the city from organizations considered unworthy, and has ed a list of those philanthropies to which it gives its indorsement. Other organizations have received the disapproval of the committee.

"The organizations which we have disapproved," the committee says in a letter to the board, "are still conducting business and openly soliciting funds, with not the same degree of success which they formerly had, it is true but they are, nevertheless, existing and supplying a means of livelihood to those interested in them. Your predecessors upon the Board of Commissioners have feit that they had no power to act in the premises. We take the liberty of inclosing copies of ordinances of the city of Berkeley. Cal., which provide for the appointment of commissioners to investigate and report upon such enter-prises, and prohibit soliciting for any nstitution not properly indersed. "There is a great public demand for milar regulations or statutes in the istrict. Are we asking too much to request that you investigate, with a view to taking such action as may be con-ducive to this end?"

Authority Questioned.

The letter was referred to the corporation counsel, who, in an opinion submitted to the Commissioners, expresses grave doubt as to the power of the Commissioners to pass regula-tions of the character indicated. The Berkeley regulations, says Corporation Counsel Syme, seem to have been justified by charter provisions alluded to in the ordinances.

"When a similar question was before the Commissioners in 1912," said Corporation Counsel Syme, "the corporation counsel recommended that the Commissioners ask for legislation at the hands of Congress if, in their opinion, the exigency was sufficient to require actions. gency was sufficient to require action. This office now concurs in that recom-nendation." In informing the charities indorsement In informing the charities indorsement committee of the corporation counsel's opinion, the Commissioners said they would be glad to consider any draft of a proposed law the committee decired to prepare and submit, believing that the conditions to which it calls attention should be dealt with in an effective way. The committee consists of Myer Cohen, chairman; Mrs. George W. White, Ralph W. Lee, M. A. Leese, and Walter C. Clephane, secretary.

Must Increase Army, Declares General Wood

An increase in the size of the United States army is declared to be absolutely necessary in the final report of Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood, sovering the period from July 1, 1913, until his retirement as chief of staff of the army April 22. Inst. General Wood's recommendations are for the estab- his term in the Michigan penitentiary, ishment of an adequate reserve of ammunition; the creation of the necessary organizations to give three complete tactical infantry divisions in continental United States and the enactment of legislation that will eliminate the continent of the eliminate the unfit officer and permit progress in rank and command to the efficient officer.

The establishment of a reserve and the proper arming of troops now in the field are recommendations deal-ing with conditions which General Wood says "should be corrected with the least possible delay, as their continuance means disaster in case of war." He adds that "their correction will take time, and measures looking thereto should be pushed as rapidly as possible."

General Wood recommends that existing regiments should be increased to an enlisted strength of at least 100 men per company, and that steps should be taken to organize an ad-ditional number of infantry regiments to complete three tactical divisions. He would also increase the engineer troops by seven companies. He relt-erates last year's recommendation for the enlistment of military school graduates for one year to qualify them for duty as reserve officers in time of need.

Special prayers for peace were offered in numerous churches during the serv-International Sunday School Association W. B. Hibbs & Co. for special peace prayers was followed in Protestant churches, and Cardinal Gibbons' request for peace prayers in Catholic churches also brought rethe European war was the prediction of the Rev. William L. DeVries, in Pethany Chapel, where 500 persons surrounded a cross bearing the inscription: "That it May Please the Good Lord to Give Peace, Unity, and Concord to All Nations."

The Rev. Samuel A. Bower, pastor of Northminster Presbyterian Church, Rhode Island avenue and Eleventh street northwest, declared the controversy had its origin "in the sixful ambition of men in power." He said that as the burden would weigh heavily on the poor of the nation, steps should be taken by all factions to bring the contaken by all factions to bring the conflict to an end.

Copper Mines Close.

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 3.-Seven mines of the Anaconda Copper Company are shut down, because of conditions in the metal market, due to the war scare. The Great Fails smelter is also closed. Three thousand men are idle, and this number probably will be increased to 15,000 unless conditions improve.

TO RESUME DANCING Pictures War Horrors to Mt. Pleasant Church

The awfulness of war was pictured to the congregation of the Mt. Pleasant Congregational Church, Columbia road, near Fourteenth street, this morning by the Rev. Curtis L. Talmace, who is filling the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Clarence A. Vincent, D. D., who is on his vacation. The Rev. Mr. Talmace expressed the hope that conditions would soon change in the affected territory and that peace would again reign.
